Dear Participant,

The year 2015 marks the fifth anniversary of Michelle Obama’s Let’s Move! Initiative, and The White House is planning a big celebration that will last throughout the winter. IMLS encourages you to participate in the birthday celebration and we’d like to highlight the great work your museum is doing.

Because your museum already takes part in this initiative, you might already be planning Let’s Move! activities this winter. If so, please add the birthday celebration messaging to your programs. If you don’t have a Let’s Move! activity scheduled for this winter, please use this celebration as an opportunity to re-energize your involvement with the initiative.

To help with the anniversary planning, we’ve developed the Let’s Move! Museums & Gardens Fifth Anniversary Toolkit. This toolkit includes programming examples; graphic elements to brand your event; a template press release; and sample social media messages to help you spread the word.

We want to hear more about what you’re doing! Please fill out our calendar of events template and return it to us by December 12, 2014. We will share these events with the Let’s Move! office at the White House so they know the important work you’re doing to support this national initiative. Please send us pictures, videos, testimonials, and other fun examples of your Let’s Move! activities. We will highlight your story on the IMLS blog, social media channels, and the Let’s Move! Museums & Gardens newsletter. We also share your stories with The White House.

We appreciate all you do to contribute to the health and well-being of your community. Thank you for participating in the Let’s Move! Fifth anniversary celebration.

Sincerely,

Project Ideas for Your Fifth Anniversary Celebration

Thank you for celebrating the Let’s Move! Fifth Anniversary. Here are some ideas to help you participate in the celebration this winter:

- Create a special exhibit or space where families can be physically active, and design a dance or activity to celebrate the Let’s Move! celebration
- Hold a scavenger hunt to celebrate the Let’s Move! birthday
- Develop a program or exhibit that helps families learn the difference between healthy and unhealthy food choices and the impact those choices can make
- Have families or children make a special Let’s Move! Fifth anniversary dish using healthy food choices
- Design a Let’s Move! pin or sticker for your museum using the Let’s Move! logo
- Create a Let’s Move! anniversary snack for your food service
- Have a day of volunteer service where volunteers help the community while getting physical activity.
- Host a program focusing on health-related concerns in your community
- Develop signage for the food service area with nutrition information or tips on how much food is needed to get energy for specific activities. Use the Let’s Move! anniversary to unveil the new messaging
- Create a “show your moves” video in your museum or garden.
- Create a video with kids to demonstrate how to healthy recipes.
- Create a Let’s Move! anniversary cookbook of healthy recipes for your community
- Borrow project ideas from other Let’s Move! museums and gardens
- Partner with other museums and gardens for a Let’s Move! challenge in your community

Once you plan your Let’s Move! Museums & Gardens anniversary celebration activities, share them with IMLS and your community:

• Submit your calendar of events to IMLS for us to share with The White House
• Use the sample press release template
• Use the sample social media templates to promote your activities
• Use Let’s Move! Museum & Gardens logos on your materials
• Take photos and videos of your activities to post on your social media channels and share with IMLS for us to share on our social media channels and with The White House

[Institution] Celebrates Let’s Move! Anniversary with Healthy Programming

[Your City]— This year marks the fifth anniversary of Let’s Move!, and [INSTITUTION NAME] will be celebrating with programs and activities focusing on healthy living. Launched by First Lady Michelle Obama in 2010, Let’s Move! is a national initiative to get kids moving and eating healthy food. It aims to support healthy children and families.

[Expand upon your museum’s programming and exhibits related to Let’s Move!]

“Museums are trusted institutions in communities across the country,” said IMLS Director Susan H. Hildreth. “Let’s Move! Museums & Gardens can have a great impact on supporting healthier lifestyles for children and families. From yoga in the art museum to creating healthy recipes from locally grown produce, many museums and gardens are already doing this great work that aligns with the goals of Let’s Move!”

[Quote from head of the institution]

Museum visitors are encouraged to show how they move in the museum by using the hashtag #LetsMove and tagging IMLS’s Facebook and Twitter accounts in their social media posts. Programs will be featured on IMLS’s social media accounts.

About Let’s Move! Museums & Gardens

Let’s Move! is a national initiative to get kids moving and eating healthy food. It aims to support healthy children and families.

Through Let’s Move! Museums & Gardens, museums, zoos, botanical gardens, and science and nature centers can join the call to action. With their impressive reach and great potential for impact, museums and gardens can launch community efforts to create a healthier generation using interactive exhibits, outdoor spaces, and programs that encourage families to eat healthy foods and increase physical activity.

Let’s Move! Museums & Gardens is led by the Institute of Museum and Library Services in partnership with the American Alliance of Museums, the Association of Children’s Museums, the American Public Gardens Association, the American Association for State and Local History, the Association of African American Museums, the Association of Art Museum Directors, the Association of Nature Center Administrators, the Association of Science-Technology Centers, and the Association of Zoos & Aquariums.
