Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $2.50 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $2.73 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, nearly half (45%) of Alabama’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access and almost half (43%) focused on improving libraries’ institutional capacity. The majority (77%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $1 million was awarded through 19 grants to libraries and museums in Alabama in FY 2011-2016.

First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Alabama museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $3.15 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $2.38 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, one-third of Arizona’s projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Roughly a quarter focused on improving patrons’ information access (28%) or libraries’ institutional capacity (27%). Over half (51%) of these projects were administered at public libraries, with another 47 percent administered by Arizona’s SLAA.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $5.4 million was awarded through 87 grants to libraries and museums in Arizona in FY 2011-2016, including a National Medal for Museum and Library Service.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefitting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Arizona museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- Center for Creative Photography - University of Arizona—Tucson, AZ
- Douglas-Williams House—Douglas, AZ
- Graham County Historical Society Museum—Thatcher, AZ
- Old Pascua Museum and Yaqui Cultural Center—Tucson, AZ

Federal funding data for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the IMLS Applications and Awards Management System (AAMS). Data about number of projects for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the State Program Report (SPR) system. “Non-Federal Contributions” for “Grants to States, Libraries” are as reported in state/territory Financial Status Reports (FSR) via hardcopy for FY 2011-2013 and in the SPR system for FY 2014-2015. Data about “Competitive Awards to Museums & Libraries” are from IMLS AAMS.

2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Arizona participated in the piloting of the SPR in FY 2013. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:

   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.79 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $2.54 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, nearly half (45%) of Arkansas’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access and nearly half (41%) focused on improving libraries’ institutional capacity. All these projects were administered by the Arkansas SLAA.
IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $500,000 was awarded through 7 grants to libraries in Arkansas in FY 2011-2016, including a National Medal for Museum and Library Service.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS's largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $15.03 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $8.48 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, nearly 40 percent of California’s projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Almost a quarter of projects focused on human services (22%) or information access (22%). Over two-thirds (68%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.
IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $35.7 million was awarded through 442 grants to libraries and museums in California in FY 2011-2016, including seven National Medals for Museum and Library Service.

Data Sources and Notes

1. IMLS Investments: Non-Federal Contribution figures for Grants to States based on yearly figures rounded to the nearest $10,000. Federal funding data for “Grants to States, Libraries,” are from the IMLS Applications and Awards Management System (AAMS). Data about number of projects for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the State Program Report (SPR) system. “Non-Federal Contributions” for “Grants to States, Libraries” are as reported in state/territory Financial Status Reports (FSR) via hardcopy for FY 2011-2013 and in the SPR system for FY 2014-2015. Data about “Competitive Awards to Museums & Libraries” are from IMLS AAMS.

2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. California did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

4. All Organizations Receiving Competitive Awards: Data are from IMLS AAMS, for more information about competitive awards visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants. For more information on the CAP program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/available/collections-assessment-preservation-program-cap.

5. Other Museum-Related Programs: Data are from reports to IMLS from the operators of the CAP and MAP programs. For more information on the MAP program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/available/museum-assessment-program-map.

6. Map data: “Public Library Outlet” locations are from the FY 2014 Public Libraries Survey (PLS). “Libraries & Museums Receiving Awards or Support, FY 2011 – FY 2016” are from IMLS AAMS. Data on “LSTA Grants to States” are from SPR.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) helps ensure that all Americans have access to museum, library, and information services. IMLS is an independent grantmaking agency and the primary source of federal support for the nation’s approximately 123,000 libraries and 35,000 museums. The agency supports innovation, lifelong learning, and entrepreneurship, enabling museums and libraries to deliver services that make it possible for communities and individuals to thrive.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $2.64 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $4.81 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, nearly half (48%) of Colorado’s projects focused on improving libraries’ institutional capacity. Over a quarter (28%) aimed to improve patrons’ information access, while 19 percent focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Over half (52%) of these projects were administered by Colorado’s SLAA and 43 percent by public libraries.

Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $5.7 million was awarded through 53 grants to libraries and museums in Colorado in FY 2011-2016, including a National Medal for Museum and Library Service.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $2.03 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $4.37 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, over half (53%) of Connecticut’s projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Over a quarter (27%) of these projects were administered at public libraries, with just under half (48%) administered by the Connecticut SLAA.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Connecticut museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- Art Museum, University of Saint Joseph—West Hartford, CT

The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Delaware did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $919k grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $998k in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, nearly half (42%) of the District of Columbia’s projects focused on improving libraries’ institutional capacity. A quarter of projects (25%) aimed to improve patrons’ information access. The majority (95%) of these projects were administered by public libraries.

1. IMLS Investments: Non-Federal Contribution figures for Grants to States based on yearly figures rounded to the nearest $10,000. Federal funding data for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the State Program Report (SPR) system. “Non-Federal Contributions” for “Grants to States, Libraries” are as reported in state/territory Financial Status Reports (FSR) via hardcopy for FY 2011-2013 and in the SPR system for FY 2014-2015. Data about “Competitive Awards to Museums & Libraries” are from IMLS AAMS.

2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Florida participated in the piloting of the SPR in FY 2013. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) helps ensure that all Americans have access to museum, library, and information services. IMLS is an independent grantmaking agency and the primary source of federal support for the nation’s approximately 123,000 libraries and 35,000 museums. The agency supports innovation, lifelong learning, and entrepreneurship, enabling museums and libraries to deliver services that make it possible for communities and individuals to thrive.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $4.42 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $30.82 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, over a third of Georgia’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access (38%) or libraries’ institutional capacity (38%). Just over half (52%) of these projects were administered by Georgia’s SLAA with just under half (48%) administered by public libraries.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $4.2 million was awarded through 32 grants to libraries and museums in Georgia in FY 2011-2016.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Georgia museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

Nearly a quarter (20%) of projects aimed to improve patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. All of these projects (100%) were administered by Hawaii’s SLAA.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.28 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $692k in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, Idaho’s projects most often focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Additionally just under a third (30%) of projects focused on improving patrons’ information access and/or aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity. Nearly all projects were administered by Idaho’s SLAA.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Idaho museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- Clearwater Historical Society, Inc.—Orofino, ID
- Museum of North Idaho—Coeur D Alene, ID
- Owyhee County Historical Society—Murphy, ID
- Sacajawea Interpretive, Cultural and Educational Center—Salmon, ID
- The Archives of Falconry—Boise, ID

The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Idaho participated in the piloting of the SPR in FY 2013. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS's largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $3.15 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $3.75 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, nearly half (49%) of Indiana’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access. Just over a quarter (28% each) focused on improving libraries’ institutional capacity and on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Half of these projects were administered at Indiana’s public libraries.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Indiana museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- Ball State University Anthropology Museum—Muncie, IN

2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Indiana did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

- FY 2014: $1.77 M
- FY 2013: $1.72 M
- FY 2012: $1.77 M
- FY 2011: $1.81 M

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.77 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $1.07 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, more than half (57%) of Kansas’s projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity, with just over a third (36%) focused on improving patrons’ information access. Less than one-tenth (7%) of projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Over half (60%) of these projects were administered by the Kansas SLAA.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Kansas museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $2.42 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $5.28 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, over half (55%) of Louisiana’s projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. A quarter of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity and to improve patrons’ information access. Almost all of these projects were administered by Louisiana’s SLAA.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $1.7 million was awarded through 30 grants to libraries and museums in Louisiana in FY 2011-2016, including a National Medal for Museum and Library Service.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Louisiana museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- American-Italian Renaissance Foundation, Museum and Library—New Orleans, LA
- Childrens Museum of Lake Charles—Lake Charles, LA

For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Louisiana did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.

Institute of Museum and Library Services Funding Report: FY 2011 - 2016

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) helps ensure that all Americans have access to museum, library, and information services. IMLS is an independent grantmaking agency and the primary source of federal support for the nation’s approximately 123,000 libraries and 35,000 museums. The agency supports innovation, lifelong learning, and entrepreneurship, enabling museums and libraries to deliver services that make it possible for communities and individuals to thrive.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS's largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $3.11 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $21.33 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, 40 percent of Massachusetts’ projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Just over one quarter focused on improving libraries’ institutional capacity (29%) and on improving patrons’ information access (26%). Just under half (49%) of these projects were administered at the Commonwealth’s public libraries.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) helps ensure that all Americans have access to museum, library, and information services. IMLS is an independent grantmaking agency and the primary source of federal support for the nation’s approximately 123,000 libraries and 35,000 museums. The agency supports innovation, lifelong learning, and entrepreneurship, enabling museums and libraries to deliver services that make it possible for communities and individuals to thrive.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $4.33 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $11.20 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, just over one-third of Michigan’s projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity, while 29 percent focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Most (89%) of these projects were administered by the Michigan SLAA.
IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $8.5 million was awarded through 101 grants to libraries and museums in Michigan in FY 2011-2016.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Michigan museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- Birmingham Historical Museum & Park—Birmingham, MI
- Charles H. Wright Museum of African American History—Detroit, MI

1. IMLS Investments: Non-Federal Contribution figures for Grants to States based on yearly figures rounded to the nearest $10,000. Federal funding data for “Grants to States, Libraries,” are from the IMLS Applications and Awards Management System (AAMS). Data about number of projects for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the State Program Report (SPR) system. “Non-Federal Contributions” for “Grants to States, Libraries” are as reported in state/territory Financial Status Reports (FSR) via hardcopy for FY 2011-2013 and in the SPR system for FY 2014-2015. Data about “Competitive Awards to Museums & Libraries” are from IMLS AAMS.

2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Michigan participated in the piloting of the SPR in FY 2013. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:

- Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
- Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
- Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
- Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
- Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
- Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) helps ensure that all Americans have access to museum, library, and information services. IMLS is an independent grantmaking agency and the primary source of federal support for the nation’s approximately 123,000 libraries and 35,000 museums. The agency supports innovation, lifelong learning, and entrepreneurship, enabling museums and libraries to deliver services that make it possible for communities and individuals to thrive.

* FY 2016 data for the Grants to States, Libraries count of projects and non-federal contribution are not yet available. Figures shown here only include FY 2011-2015.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.81 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $7.36 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, nearly two-thirds (61%) of Mississippi’s projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity. Just under a quarter (23%) of projects focused on improving patrons’ information access, while 13 percent focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Over half (57%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $1 million was awarded through 12 grants to libraries and museums in Mississippi in FY 2011-2016, including two National Medals for Museum and Library Service.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.06 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $709k in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, half of Montana’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access. Nearly a third (30%) of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity, and 10 percent focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills or providing patrons with information related for family issues such as health, parenting or financial issues. Nearly all of these projects were administered by Montana’s SLAA.
IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $3.8 million was awarded through 49 grants to libraries and museums in Montana in FY 2011-2016.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.18 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $2.57 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, nearly two-thirds (62%) of New Hampshire’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access. Just under a quarter (23%) focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills, while 15 percent of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity. All projects were administered by the SLAA.

First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The New Hampshire museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) helps ensure that all Americans have access to museum, library, and information services. IMLS is an independent grantmaking agency and the primary source of federal support for the nation’s approximately 123,000 libraries and 35,000 museums. The agency supports innovation, lifelong learning, and entrepreneurship, enabling museums and libraries to deliver services that make it possible for communities and individuals to thrive.

IMLS Investments

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.47 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $895k in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, nearly half (45%) of New Mexico’s projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills with 36 percent focussing on improving patrons’ information access. Just over a quarter (27%) of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity. Nearly two-thirds (63%) of these projects were administered by the SLAA.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $3.2 million was awarded through 75 grants to libraries and museums in New Mexico in FY 2011-2016, including two National Medals for Museum and Library Service.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The New Mexico museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

Data Sources and Notes

1. IMLS Investments: Non-Federal Contribution figures for Grants to States based on yearly figures rounded to the nearest $10,000. Federal funding data for “Grants to States, Libraries,” are from the IMLS Applications and Awards Management System (AAMS). Data about number of projects for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the State Program Report (SPR) system. “Non-Federal Contributions” for “Grants to States, Libraries” are as reported in state/territory Financial Status Reports (FSR) via hardcopy for FY 2011-2013 and in the SPR system for FY 2014-2015. Data about “Competitive Awards to Museums & Libraries” are from IMLS AAMS.

2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. New Mexico did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The New York museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

• Vestal Museum—Vestal, NY
• Willard Memorial Chapel—Auburn, NY
• World Awareness Children's Museum—Glens Falls, NY
• Yager Museum of Art and Culture—Oneonta, NY

* FY 2016 data for the Grants to States, Libraries count of projects and non-federal contribution are not yet available. Figures shown here only include FY 2011-2015.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $4.17 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $3.17 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, one third of North Carolina’s projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills and 29 percent focused on improving patrons’ information access. About a quarter (24%) of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity. Just under half (44%) of these projects were administered at public libraries with another 27 percent administered at academic libraries.
IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $8.5 million was awarded through 58 grants to libraries and museums in North Carolina in FY 2011-2016, including three National Medals for Museum and Library Service.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $944k grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $1.94 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, half of North Dakota’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access (50%). A third of projects sought to improve patrons’ lifelong learning (33%), including formal education, general knowledge, and skills, while 17 percent of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity. All of these projects were administered by North Dakota’s SLAA.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $1 million was awarded through 18 grants to libraries and museums in North Dakota in FY 2011-2016.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $5.03 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $3.99 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, roughly one-third of Ohio’s projects focused on improving libraries’ institutional capacity (32%) or patrons’ lifelong learning (30%), including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Over a quarter (26%) of projects aimed to improve patrons information access. About half (51%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Ohio museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- African American Museum—Cleveland, OH

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $2.15 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $1.69 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, just under half (44%) of Oregon’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access. About one-third (32%) of projects aimed to improve patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Just over a quarter (29%) of these projects were administered at public libraries, while the Oregon SLAA administered another quarter (24%).

1. IMLS Investments: Non-Federal Contribution figures for Grants to States based on yearly figures rounded to the nearest $10,000. Federal funding data for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the IMLS Applications and Awards Management System (AAMS). Federal support results in increased levels of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS's largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.08 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $844k in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, half of Rhode Island’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access and half aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity. A quarter of projects aimed to improve patrons’ lifelong learning (25%) with 23 percent supporting economic development. Nearly 90 percent of these projects were administered by Rhode Island’s SLAA.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $2.6 million was awarded through 20 grants to libraries and museums in Rhode Island in FY 2011-2016, including a National Medal for Museum and Library Service.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Rhode Island museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

• Haffenreffer Museum of Anthropology—Providence, RI
• Old Slater Mill Association—Pawtucket, RI
• Paine House Museum—Coventry, RI
• Rhode Island Computer Museum—North Kingstown, RI

2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Rhode Island did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $2.46 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $7.76 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, South Carolina’s projects focused on increasing civic engagement (41%) and on improving libraries’ institutional capacity (39%). Over one-quarter of projects aimed to improve patrons’ information access (30%) or patrons’ lifelong learning (26%), including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. The majority (75%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.
IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $2.4 million was awarded through 21 grants to libraries and museums in South Carolina in FY 2011-2016, including two National Medals for Museum and Library Service.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) helps ensure that all Americans have access to museum, library, and information services. IMLS is an independent grantmaking agency and the primary source of federal support for the nation’s approximately 123,000 libraries and 35,000 museums. The agency supports innovation, lifelong learning, and entrepreneurship, enabling museums and libraries to deliver services that make it possible for communities and individuals to thrive.

IMLS Investments

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS's largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $994k grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $1.25 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, half (50%) of South Dakota’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access. Nearly 20 percent of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity, and nearly 20 percent focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Over half (61%) of these projects were administered by South Dakota’s SLAA.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The South Dakota museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- 1881 Courthouse Museum—Custer, SD

The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. South Dakota did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.

State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $10.51 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $8.70 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, over half (59%) of Texas’s projects focused on improving patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. About a quarter (26%) of projects aimed to improve patrons’ information access. Nearly two-thirds (62%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $12.6 million was awarded through 75 grants to museums and libraries in Texas in FY 2011-2016.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Texas museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- American Undersea Warfare Center—Galveston, TX
- Art Museum of Southeast Texas—Beaumont, TX

Federal funding data for “Grants to States, Libraries,” are from the IMLS Applications and Awards Management System (AAMS). Data about number of projects for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the State Program Report (SPR) system. “Non-Federal Contributions” for “Grants to States, Libraries” are as reported in state/territory Financial Status Reports (FSR) via hardcopy for FY 2011-2013 and in the SPR system for FY 2014-2015. 2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Texas did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

5. Other Museum-Related Programs: Data are from reports to IMLS from the operators of the CAP and MAP programs. ### Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS's largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.76 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $2.08 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, nearly half (47%) of Utah’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access. Over one-third (37%) of projects aimed to improve patrons’ lifelong learning, including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Over half (57%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Vermont museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- Bley House Museum—Dorset, VT
- Bread and Puppet Theater—Glover, VT
- ECHO Lake Aquarium & Science Center—Burlington, VT
- Lake Champlain Maritime Museum at Basin Harbor, Inc.—Vergennes, VT
- National Museum of the Morgan Horse—Middlebury, VT

* FY 2016 data for the Grants to States, Libraries count of projects and non-federal contribution are not yet available. Figures shown here only include FY 2011-2015.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $3.69 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $16.80 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2013-2015, approximately one-third of Virginia’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access (37%), libraries’ institutional capacity (38%), and patrons’ lifelong learning (29%), including formal education, general knowledge, and skills. Over half (60%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $11.8 million was awarded through 52 grants to libraries and museums in Virginia in FY 2011-2016, including three National Medals for Museum and Library Service.

The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Washington participated in the piloting of the SPR in FY 2013. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $1.38 million grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $13.27 million in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, over 60 percent (67%) of West Virginia’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access. Additionally, a quarter of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity. Projects also addressed improving patrons’ civic engagement and economic development and employment. Most (88%) of these projects were administered by West Virginia’s SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, Wisconsin’s projects were roughly evenly focused on improving patrons’ information access, libraries’ institutional capacity and patrons’ lifelong learning (i.e., formal education, general knowledge, and skills). Nearly 90 percent (89%) of these projects were administered at public libraries.
Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $6 million was awarded through 74 grants to libraries and museums in Wisconsin in FY 2011-2016, including two National Medals for Museum and Library Service.

1. IMLS Investments: Non-Federal Contribution figures for Grants to States based on yearly figures rounded to the nearest $10,000. Federal funding data for “Grants to States, Libraries,” are from the IMLS Applications and Awards Management System (AAMS). Data about number of projects for “Grants to States, Libraries” are from the State Program Report (SPR) system. “Non-Federal Contributions” for “Grants to States, Libraries” are as reported in state/territory Financial Status Reports (FSR) via hardcopy for FY 2011-2013 and in the SPR system for FY 2014-2015. Data about “Competitive Awards to Museums & Libraries” are from IMLS AAMS.

2. Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAA): “Grants to States Awards (LSTA)” data are from IMLS AAMS. For more information about the IMLS Grants to States Program visit: https://www.imls.gov/grants/grants-states. The statutory “maintenance of effort” requirement helps ensure that federal support results in an increased level of library services within the state and that federal dollars do not replace state support over time. Data described in “Grants to States Project Objectives” and “Grants to States Project Awards by Grantee Library Type” charts were reported by states/territories in the SPR system. The majority of states reported this data through the online SPR system beginning in FY 2014; 17 states reported FY 2013 data through this system during its piloting phase. Wisconsin did not participate in this pilot. Focal areas are associated with project goals. Definitions of SPR Focal Areas are:
   - Institutional Capacity: Add, improve or update a library function or operation in order to further its effectiveness.
   - Information Access: Improve users’ access to information.
   - Lifelong Learning: Improve users’ knowledge or abilities beyond basic access to information.
   - Human Services: Improve users’ ability to apply information that further their personal, family or household circumstances.
   - Employment and Economic Development: Improve users’ ability to apply information that furthers the status of their jobs and/or businesses.
   - Civic Engagement: Improve users’ ability to engage in their communities.

The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) helps ensure that all Americans have access to museum, library, and information services. IMLS is an independent grantmaking agency and the primary source of federal support for the nation’s approximately 123,000 libraries and 35,000 museums. The agency supports innovation, lifelong learning, and entrepreneurship, enabling museums and libraries to deliver services that make it possible for communities and individuals to thrive.

Grants to State Library Administrative Agencies

The Library Grants to States Program, supported by the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), is IMLS’s largest program and provides grants to every state using a population-based formula. State Library Administrative Agencies (SLAAs) provide IMLS with a five-year plan and use subawards and statewide projects to improve library services.

In FY 2014, IMLS’s $897k grant to the SLAA leveraged approximately $617k in support from the state that year for library services through the SLAA.

Between FY 2014-2015, 60 percent of Wyoming’s projects focused on improving patrons’ information access. One fifth of projects aimed to improve libraries’ institutional capacity or increase civic engagement. Most (89%) of these projects were administered by Wyoming’s SLAA.

Competitive Awards to Museums and Libraries

IMLS administers competitive grant programs that help museums and libraries offer learning experiences, support community and civic engagement, care for collections, and provide digital access to content. More than $300,000 was awarded through 5 grants to libraries and museums in Wyoming in FY 2011-2016.

Museum Assessment Programs

IMLS funds two museum assessment programs benefiting thousands of primarily small and medium-sized museums. First offered in 1981, the Museum Assessment Program (MAP) helps museums strengthen operations, plan for the future, and meet professional standards. The Collections Assessment for Preservation (CAP) program, initially launched in 1990, provides museums with an analysis of the condition of their collections and building systems to improve the long term care of these community resources. The Wyoming museums participating in MAP or CAP since FY 2011 are:

- Campbell County Rockpile Museum—Gillette, WY
- Casper College Museums—Casper, WY
- Grand Encampment Museum—Encampment, WY
- Jackson Hole Historical Society and Museum—Jackson, WY
- Laramie Peak Museum—Wheatland, WY
- Meeteetse Museums District—Meeteetse, WY
- Saratoga Historical & Cultural Association—Saratoga, WY
